

Tribal Self-Determination and Vision for Cleanup and Restoration

Tribal Self-Determination and Vision for Cleanup and Restoration

The United States Federal Courts

Tribal Self-Determination and Vision for the Future

“It is the policy of the Confederated Tribes of the Umatilla Indian Reservation that all salmon and other native fish species be restored to the same population levels and to all rivers in which they lived prior to the Treaty of 1855.”

CTUIR, “Salmon Policy,” available at <http://www.umatilla.nsn.us/salmon.pdf>

Acknowledgements

Slide 9

Chart Used with Permission from William H. Rodgers, Jr., Professor of Law, University of Washington School of Law.

Slide 18

(Right) Oregon Historical Society, # Or Hi 93190. Captioned: “Indian being cited for illegal fall salmon catch” (March 8, 1978) (Joseph C. Dupris, et al., The Si'lailo Way, 247 (2006); [Oregon State Police] Pvt. Tom Ashmore cites [Nez Perce tribal fisher] Ipsusnute V for an illegal fall salmon catch in the early 1970s. (Frona Woods, “Who’s in Charge of Fishing?”, 106 Oregon Historical Quarterly 412 (2005)).

Slide 22

Table of Selected Relevant Fish Consumption Rates by Barbara L. Harper, Ph.D, CTUIR and Oregon State University

Acknowledgements

Slide 24

(Left) Photo Courtesy of the Greene Family. Captioned: ...As Mickey McCormack of the Nez Perce Tribe watches, Pvt. Tom Ashmore, Pvt. Dale R. Badger (in boat), and Sgt. Walter S. Hershey of the Oregon State Police seize a fishing net from Nez Perce tribal member Ipsusnute V (Jesse Greene) in 1968. (Fronda Woods, Who's in Charge of Fishing?, 106 Oregon Historical Quarterly 412 (2005)). (Lower right) Photo by Tom Reese. Captioned: "Ages of mistreatment still show in Seattle's only river, the Duwamish. Aside from abandoned refuse such as this barnacle-covered truck, the river is home to tons of industrial waste settled in the sediment." (The Seattle Times, Pacific Northwest Magazine, "The Road Back: From Seattle's Superfund Sewer to Haven Once More" (Oct. 3, 2004)).

Slide 27

(Upper Left) Photo Courtesy of Jim Gibson and the Swinomish Indian Tribal Community. Joe MacDonald Crabbing. (Lower Left) Photo Courtesy of Northwest Indian Fish Commission. Upper Skagit, Elders Clam Dig.

Acknowledgements

Slide 30

Photo Courtesy of Jim Gibson and the Swinomish Indian Tribal Community. Blessing of the Fleet Ceremony.

Slide 32

(Left) Photo by U.S. Park Service. Glines Canyon Dam. (Right) Photo Courtesy of Northwest Indian Fish Commission. Restoration Efforts at Lone Tree Creek, Swinomish Reservation.

Slide 33

(Upper Left) Photo by Confederated Tribes of the Umatilla Indian Reservation. (Lower Left) Photo by Confederated Tribes of the Umatilla Indian Reservation.

Slide 34

Photo Courtesy of Swinomish Indian Tribal Community. Community Clam Bake.

Slide 35

Photo by Confederated Tribes of the Umatilla Indian Reservation.